SSF VNC CAMP

The Social Outreach and Community Development Committee (SOCDC), Vivekananda College, has continued to engage itself with social outreach and extension activities. One programme has partnered with Slum Swaraj Foundation (SSF) – an NGO and is focused on conducting regular educational camps for the slum children in Jhilmil Colony. Education is the first step in the making of an advancing society. Primary education is an out-and-out prerequisite for continuous development. Primary schools make an influence on children's academic progress as well as their family background. The main objective of Slum Swaraj Foundation is to bring awareness among the children, open avenues of opportunities along with self-development and reduce inter-generational academic poverty.

In the last session, during the pandemic, the offline camp was not functional and due to this college student members were engaged in the online 'Saarthi: Ek Ache Kal Ke Liye initiative' to support students from nearby slum areas. The Saarthi initiative aims to establish a relationship between a teacher (Student member) and a student (underprivileged) on the basis of Intellectual Guardianship. With the concept of "Each One Teach One",

But from 1st September 2022, an offline camp has been started for the kids of Jhilmil Colony. A day in a week is assigned to each volunteer for going to camp and teach Jhilmil kids. Besides teaching, they celebrate festivals and national days with them. Volunteers also help them with moral support, educational guidance, etc. The initiative is running successfully. 37 volunteers are part of this initiative.

Donation Drive

A donation drive was organized by Social outreach & Community Development Committee under the project HUM, in association with Slum Swaraj Foundation from the 23rd August, 2022 to the 31st August, 2022. A poster and message were circulated throughout the college. Two boxes were placed at both the gates of the College so that students could donate stationery (pens, pencils, eraser, sharpener, unused copies, crayons, pencil colors, paints, geometry box), books (NCERT books from class 1-12, handwriting copies, story books, drawing copies, poem-prose books) and other things like plastic mats and toys during the college hours (9 am-5 pm). The response to the donation drive was generous. Students donated new boxes of sharpeners, erasers, pencils, and paints. There were NCERT books for classes 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th. These donation items have helped the children extract a smoother, better learning that we work to provide them with. 37 volunteers were involved in this.

Exhibition of SDG Panels

Social Outreach & Development Community Committee in association with Bharat Soka Gakki organized an exhibition of 25 panels including 17 panels of SDG on the theme of “Seeds of hope and action” on 12th – 13th January 2023. These panels were put in foyer area of the college. Volunteers explained the concept of 'SDG' to the guests and had an interactive talk on the same. The exhibition had a wonderful concept and idea which says 'It starts with one'. The purpose of this exhibition was to promote a culture of sustainability and establishing respect for the dignity of all life in society by spreading awareness among the young generation. The exhibition went wonderful and everyone got so much to learn through this.

The Placement and Career Counselling Cell

The Placement and Career Counselling Cell of Vivekananda College as part of the year long DU Centenary Celebration organised an online workshop “Resume Writing: Structuring Professional Profiles” on 25 September 2022, Sunday at 10:00 AM through Google Meet <https://meet.google.com/kmk-tpem-jkj>. The session was conducted by Mr. Arunabha Bose, Assistant Professor of English, Vivekananda College.

Mr. Bose introduced young Undergraduate students to types of Resumes, namely the Chronological, Functional and Hybrid Resume. He emphasised that Functional resumes present candidate skill sets and discussions independent from job descriptions, if those descriptions are included at all. In this resume type, skill listings come before all other content. He went on to enumerate that in a functional resume, candidate’s qualifications, experience, and achievements are grouped into "skill areas," rather than tied to specific positions and dates. Students can moreover group qualifications depending on their career direction, but possible headings include: Communication skills. Leadership skills. Customer service experience. Organizational skills. Technical experience. Sales experience. Management experience. Financial skills. Teaching/training skills. Then Mr. Bose spoke about important guidelines for streamlining, formatting, and editing the Resume with emphasis in typeface, Fonts, Margins and orientation. Mr. Bose emphasised the need to use Action verbs in order to lend dynamism and impact to the Resume. With illustrative examples of a recent Commerce graduate, Applied Psychology graduate and Bachelors of Arts graduate, Mr. Bose exhibited the structuring of Resumes with Career Orientation/Goal, Career Profile/Self-Branding and Work Experience. Mr. Bose stressed the need to formulate a qualitative skill based Resume in opposition to a quantitative chronological Resume with an emphasis on converting Employment Details into personal strengths and core skills such as customer service, time management, team work and problem solving. He displayed specific examples to suggest how General Undergraduates with no experience, Commerce and Accountancy Undergraduates with No experience and Humanities Undergraduates with No Experience might organise their skill sets into decipherable and concrete objectives. He displayed slides with Skill summaries of an Accountancy and Business Administration Graduates, an Administrative Assistant Aspirant, a Community Outreach Volunteer, a Computer Programming Student and an Applied Psychology Undergraduate with minimal experience. He further underlined the need to segregate the Resume into different skill based categories such as Management Skill, Aptitude and Analytical Skill and Leadership Skill. He emphasised the need to bridge and demarcate skills acquired during Internship and Temporary employment from Volunteer work and Community services. He advised students to pay attention on marketing their employable and additional skills such as Community Outreach, Membership of Industrial Associations, Academic Achievements and Distinctions and University related Activities. Mr. Bose finally concluded his presentation with illustrative examples of Cover Letters (Solicited and Unsolicited) clearly outlining the need to demarcate the letter into three coherent and legible sections: In the First Section the candidate states the job title (and number when given), where the student saw the posting, and her/his desire to interview for the position. Later, he/she supports requests for consideration by offering an accurate assessment of his/her qualifications. In the middle section the candidate thoroughly shares with readers what he/she has learned through inventorying his/her qualifications and achievements and analyzing his/her goal-

focused competencies and capabilities. This can be done simply by rephrasing the resume's qualification summary. The candidate is required to retrospectively look back, then look forward, and, most importantly, share his/her confident, future-focused views. The Cover Letter must address questions like: Why the candidate has chosen the field? What does the candidate's background have to do with the field and the function he/she wishes to serve? What are the key qualities required to serve within the desired day-to-day roles? Some of the illustrative examples he shared were Cover Letters written by an Accountancy Student, a B. Ed student, a Commerce student and a Bachelor of Arts student ranging from letters documenting professional competence to letters chronicling personal learning and growth. The session ended with an interactive session with students posing their respective queries to Mr. Bose

The session ended with Dr. Gopika Bhandari, Associate Professor, Department of History, Vivekananda College and Ms. Anshi Saxena offering the invited speaker a vote of thanks. Mr. Arunabha Bose encouraged students to draft Resumes focussing on the Qualitative Approach highlighted by him and share their output with him for a personalised tutoring session. The session was co-hosted by Ms. Vaishnavi Singh. The Workshop was conceptualised and organised by Dr. Veena Jain, Convenor of Placement and Career Counselling Cell and Associate Professor of Commerce. The workshop was attended by 71 attendees.

The Placement Cell

Topic: “Learning Skills Of Personal Branding And Cracking Placements”

Speaker: Dr. Abdul Qadir

Venue: Sharda Hall

Date: 11th October 2022

The Placement and Career counselling cell of Vivekananda College organized a webinar on 11th October 2022, Tuesday at 12:00 PM in the Sharada Hall. The topic for the workshop was “Learning Skills Of Personal Branding And Cracking Placements”. The workshop was conducted by Dr. Abdul Qadir , an experienced professor at JAIPURIA Institute of Management. The event was coordinated by Ms. Preeti Sharma. The workshop was designed to equip students about placement opportunities available after graduation.

Dr. Abdul Qadir is an academician, trainer, and consultant, having experience of 20 yrs. in the domain of HR & OB. His interests lie in the domain of Strategic HRM, HRIS, Comp. & Ben., HR Analytics and Psychometrics. To his MDP/Training endeavors, he has conducted numerous sessions on topics like; Conflict Management, Personality Mapping, Team Work Competency, Interpersonal Relations, Personal Effectiveness, Leadership Skills & Team Building and Time Management for organizations like; NTPC, IFFCO, NDDDB, KRIBHCO, Tata Chemicals, NFL, Coromandel, TCIL and Bhutan Officials..

The speaker emphasized on personal branding , their facts and the areas associated with personal branding. He also focused on checklist of personal branding that include knowing ourselves and SWOT analysis; knowing the procedure; how to take charge of it; how to evaluate ourselves and some procedure to improve networking to improve personality development. The event became informative wherein the students grasp useful information and guidance required for the preparation for the placements and improvement in decision making power. He also focused on cracking some common questions that are asked during interview and strategies for managing group discussion.

The event saw a positive and encouraging response from students of all disciplines and was attended by 123 students. The session concluded with a vote of thank to the teacher Convener Dr. Veena Jain, and the Teacher Coordinators Ms. Gopika, Ms. Vishakha, Mr. Arunabha Bose and Mr. Yamunam Rocky for managing the entire event.

Topic: How to Prepare For Aptitude Test

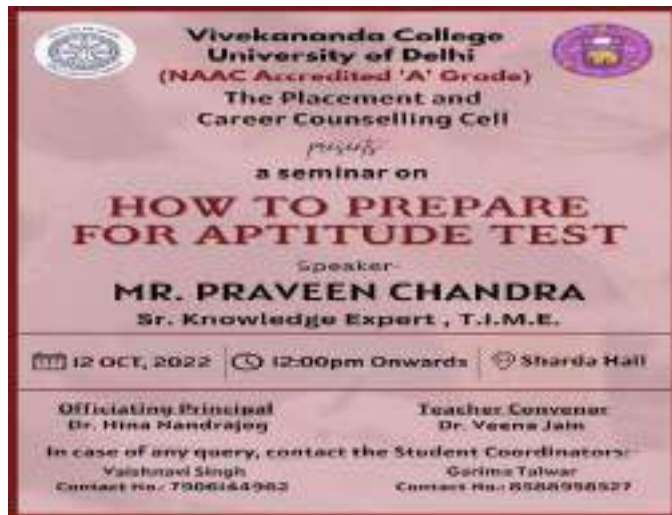

Date and Time: 12 October 2022, 12:00 PM

Speaker: Mr. Praveen Chandra

The Placement and Career counselling cell of Vivekananda College organised a workshop on 12 October 2022, Wednesday at 12:00 PM in the Sharada Hall. The topic for the workshop was “How to Prepare for Aptitude Test”. The workshop was conducted by Mr. Praveen Chandra, an experienced faculty member at TIME (Triumphant Institute of Management Studies). The event was coordinated by Mr. Shekhar. The workshop was designed to equip students about prospective career prospects available to them after graduation.

Mr. Chandra emphasised that every competitive/recruitment process requires the indispensable skill of Aptitude. Government examinations such as UPSC and SSC, Bank PO examinations as well as entrance examinations for admission to MBA require a basic Aptitude Test. An Aptitude Test generally focuses on Three distinct areas: 1. Verbal Ability Reasoning and Comprehension (English), Quantitative Aptitude (Elementary Maths) and Logical Reasoning and Data Interpretation. The workshop primarily focused on Quantitative Aptitude, knowledge of the subject and skills such as Time Management, Decision Making Skills, Cognitive Analysis, Predictability Skills, and a Positive Mindset. Mr. Chandra emphasised that all questions have equal weightage and therefore the process of selection and elimination is crucial and the decision-making skill of the individual is of vital importance. The individual must be able to manage time under pressure. Aptitude is a combination of knowledge and skills and therefore requires practice along with revision, observation, adaptability, and quick thinking. For Quantitative Aptitude, elementary mathematical knowledge acquired till Class X is deemed sufficient. Adaptability is key to negotiating the difficulty level of the subject especially in examinations such as CAT. Mr Chandra discussed some aspects of Quantitative Aptitude by engaging the audience in a select series of MCQs based on Profit-Loss strategies, Simple Interest-Compound Interest, Simple Quadratic Equation, Cost Price-Selling Price Indexation etc. Mr. Chandra emphasised the fact that smart thinking can enable individuals to change their answering strategies by developing innovative solutions based on ready references and techniques which scan the available choices to arrive at the answers efficiently and accurately.

The event saw a positive and encouraging response from students of all disciplines and was attended by 112 students. The session concluded with a vote of thanks. Dr. Veena Jain, Associate Professor and Convenor of The Placement and Career Counselling Cell was the Teacher Coordinator for the event.

Topic: Mass Communication and Media Studies: Eligibility and Prospects

Date: 20th October 2022

Resource Person : Dr. Anugyan Nag

The Placement and Career Counselling Cell of Vivekananda College organised a seminar on “Mass Communication and Media Studies: Eligibility and Prospects” as part of the DU Centenary Celebrations on 20th October 2022, Thursday at 12:00 PM in the small auditorium in the physical mode. The seminar was addressed by Dr. Anugyan Nag, Assistant Professor at Mass Communication Research Centre, Jamia Millia Islamia University. Dr. Nag is a distinguished filmmaker, Film Scholar with years of teaching experience and a Fulbright Fellow. Dr. Nag spoke about the concept and myths about “Media Education”. He underlined the need to distinguish between the academic prospects of pursuing media education and the career prospects of media studies. He classified the concept of media studies under the distinguished criteria of – Practice and Academics. As far as academic prospects of Media Studies is concerned, Dr. Nag underlined that UGC guidelines specify that a student from any disciplinary background can enter into the discipline. However, he underlined that a background in Humanities and Social Sciences is elementary for entering into traditional fields like journalism or digital and emerging platforms. He emphasised that a command over language and diverse linguistic proficiency is necessary for entering into media studies. However, venturing into Editorial vocations requires skill-based understanding and not just Humanities Background. The NET eligibility test packages all expressions of media studies such as Print, Mass Media, PR, Social Media or Digital Media into one subject – Mass Communication and Journalism. Dr. Nag went onto emphasize the prospects of pursuing a Master or PGDM degree in Journalism/Mass Communication from IIMC, Jamia Millia Islamia's MCRC (a leading media studies centre offering 5 Masters and 3 PGDM courses), Mudra Institute of Communication, Ahmedabad (offering courses in strategic communication for Planning/Marketing/Publicity/Launch Campaigns and offers courses such as MBA in Communication Management where some of the papers taught are Media and Cultural Studies. Strategic Planning and Communication Theory), National Institute of Design, Ahmedabad (offering specialisation in Visual Communication and a diverse range of career prospects ranging from Art Director/Production Designer to Textile Designer/Animator and Advertisement Professional), FTII, Pune and Satyajit Ray Film and Television Institute, Kolkata which offer specialisation in Screenwriting, Editing, Sound Recording, Cinematography and Directing as part of it's various four-year courses. Developmental Communication which emphasizes Women's Health, Sanitation and Children's Health is in high demand and graduates are recruited by prestigious organisations such as WHO, UNESCO, UN and OXFAM. Digital Media related Courses are also being offered in Private Universities such as Ashoka, Shiv Nadar and Aziz Premji University. Dr. Nag informed us that MCRC, Jamia Millia Islamia makes around 25 films every year for the Information and Broadcasting Ministry of Government of India and undertakes research related works such as Community Radio broadcast. As far as Career Prospects in Print Media are concerned, Dr. Nag emphasised that a young trainee is likely to recruited as a copyeditor or trainee journalist; however, students do not get recruited in Print and Television Media easily because of lack of linguistic proficiency.

Dr. Nag underscored in the next part of the lecture, the importance of preparing oneself for a career in the media. A rigorous understanding and proficiency in language – both verbal and written is indispensable for a career in Media Studies. He emphasized the need to develop skills such as editorial techniques to select/trim/clip a footage into the desired length for a story. He further encouraged students to develop an interest in regional politics and not just national politics to be familiar with regional nuances and specificities. He underlined the fact that English Journalism is still a global market leader because many countries such as China, Russia, France, Japan and Brazil have their own nationalised Global English Channels. He informed students about certain subsets of journalism such as Science Journalism especially with the emergence of Digital Platforms, Political Journalism focussing on International Affairs/International Relations (Border Conflict/Neighbourhood Conflict/Conflict and Peace Negotiation) and Climate/Environmental Journalism. Apart from the changed idea of TV which is now being live streamed through digital forums outside the country of origin, the idea of Radio has also changed with the emergence of Podcasts which is the fastest growing digital platform apart from OTT which has democratised film exhibition. Dr. Nag ended his lecture by talking about the Teaching Industry emphasizing the need to develop a profile by publishing papers in different platforms and forums. Dr. Nag underlined the fact that the modern era is the era of content creators and influencers and a full time career can be made by developing a diverse variety of content. Content writing provides practitioners with flexibility and independence but requires the authentication of information and thus ethical information gathering is of vital importance.

The session ended with a robust question-answer round where students posed a wide array of questions to Dr. Nag ranging from patterns of question papers in Entrance Examinations to prospects of applying to Foreign Universities. The session ended with a vote of thanks delivered by Mr. Arunabha Bose. The Teacher Coordinator for the event was Dr. Veena Jain, Convenor of Placement and Career Counselling Cell. Ms. Vaishnavi Singh and Ms. Garima Talwar were the student coordinators for the event. The session was attended by students of B.A. (H) English, B. Com (P) and B.A. (P). The session was attended by 105 students

Time-11:00 AM to 12:00 Noon

The Placement and Career Counselling Cell of Vivekananda College as part of the year long DU Centenary Celebration organised an online workshop “Resume Writing: Structuring Professional Profiles” on 8 February 2023, Wednesday at 10:00 AM in Sharada Hall. The session was conducted by Mr. Arunabha Bose, Assistant Professor of English, Vivekananda College.

Mr. Bose introduced young Undergraduate students to types of Resumes, namely the Chronological, Functional and Hybrid Resume. He emphasised that Functional resumes present candidate skill sets and discussions independent from job descriptions, if those descriptions are included at all. In this resume type, skill listings come before all other content. He went on to enumerate that in a functional resume, candidate’s qualifications, experience, and achievements are grouped into "skill areas," rather than tied to specific positions and dates. Students can moreover group qualifications depending on their career direction, but possible headings include: Communication skills. Leadership skills. Customer service experience. Organizational skills. Technical experience. Sales experience. Management experience. Financial skills. Teaching/training skills. Then Mr. Bose spoke about important guidelines for streamlining, formatting, and editing the Resume with emphasis in typeface, Fonts, Margins and orientation. Mr. Bose emphasised the need to use Action verbs in order to lend dynamism and impact to the Resume. With illustrative examples of a recent Commerce graduate, Applied Psychology graduate and Bachelors of Arts graduate, Mr. Bose exhibited the structuring of Resumes with Career Orientation/Goal, Career Profile/Self-Branding and Work Experience. Mr. Bose stressed the need to formulate a qualitative skill based Resume in opposition to a quantitative chronological Resume with an emphasis on converting Employment Details into personal strengths and core skills such as customer service, time management, team work and problem solving. He displayed specific examples to suggest how General Undergraduates with no experience, Commerce and Accountancy Undergraduates with No experience and Humanities Undergraduates with No Experience might organise their skill sets into decipherable and concrete objectives. He displayed slides with Skill summaries of an Accountancy and Business Administration Graduates, an Administrative Assistant Aspirant, a Community Outreach Volunteer, a Computer Programming Student and an Applied Psychology Undergraduate with minimal experience. He further underlined the need to segregate the Resume into different skill based categories such as Management Skill, Aptitude and Analytical Skill and Leadership Skill. He emphasised the need to bridge and demarcate skills acquired during Internship and Temporary employment from Volunteer work and Community services. He advised students to pay attention on marketing their employable and additional skills such as Community Outreach, Membership of Industrial Associations, Academic Achievements and Distinctions and University related Activities. Mr. Bose finally concluded his presentation with illustrative examples of Cover Letters (Solicited and Unsolicited) clearly outlining the need to demarcate the letter into three coherent and legible sections: In the First Section the candidate states the job title (and number when given), where the student saw the posting, and her/his desire to interview for the position. Later, he/she supports requests for consideration by offering an accurate assessment of his/her qualifications. In the middle section the candidate thoroughly shares with readers what he/she has learned through inventorying his/her qualifications and achievements and analyzing his/her goal-focused competencies and capabilities. This can be done simply by rephrasing the resume's qualification summary. The candidate is required to retrospectively look back, then look forward, and, most importantly, share his/her confident, future-focused views. The Cover Letter must address questions like: Why the candidate has chosen the field? What does the candidate's background have to do with the field and the function he/she wishes to serve? What are the key qualities required to serve within the desired day-to-day roles? Some of the illustrative examples he shared were Cover Letters written by an Accountancy Student, a B. Ed student, a Commerce student and a Bachelor of Arts student ranging from letters documenting professional competence to letters chronicling personal learning and growth. The session ended with an interactive session with students posing their respective queries to Mr. Bose

The session ended with Dr. Gopika Bhandari, Associate Professor, Department of History, Vivekananda College and Ms. Anshi Saxena offering the invited speaker a vote of thanks. Mr. Arunabha Bose encouraged students to draft Resumes focussing on the Qualitative Approach highlighted by him and share their output with him for a personalised tutoring session. The session was co-hosted by Ms. Vaishnavi Singh. The Workshop was conceptualised and organised by Dr. Veena Jain, Convenor of Placement and Career Counselling Cell and Associate Professor of Commerce. The workshop was attended by 109 attendees.

Topic: How to Choose Right Career Path by Ms. Shivani Sharma

Speaker: Ms. Shivani Sharma

Date- 29/03/2023

Venue: Sharda hall

A speaker session on How to Choose Right Career Path by Ms. Shivani Sharma was conducted by the Placement Cell of the college. The objective of the session was to enlighten the students about their choice while choosing their right career path. The session began with the speaker's

‘UNITED COLOURS OF LANGUAGES – NEP 2020’

The NEP and Vidya Vistar (V2) Committees of Vivekananda College, University of Delhi in collaboration with the Government Model College, Deithor, Assam, organised a national seminar in virtual mode on the topic: ‘United Colours of Languages – NEP 2020’ on 27 th April, 2022 as a part of ‘Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav’ and the glorious Centenary Celebrations of the University of Delhi (1922–2022). The link of the seminar was:

<https://meet.google.com/fwj-psaf-fcz>

There were three sessions in this one-day national seminar, comprising of the Inaugural Session, Technical Session ('Languages and Indian Culture') and Panel Discussion by the Advisors of Vidya Vistar Scheme.

The Inaugural session of the seminar started with an invocation to God and the Welcome Address by Dr. Hina Nandrajog, Officiating Principal, Vivekananda College. After welcoming the guests and the participants, a Special Message was delivered by Mr. Subhash Dhingra, Honourable Chairperson, Governing Body, Vivekananda College. The Introductory Note regarding the concept of the programme was presented by Dr. Sukhneet Suri, Convenor of the Seminar and NEP and V2 Committees. The Chief Guest, Shri Atul Kothari, National Secretary, Shiksha Sanskriti Utthan Nyas, New Delhi spoke on the importance of the 'Role of Indian Languages in Education'. The Guest of Honour, Prof. Balaram Pani, Dean of Colleges, University of Delhi spoke regarding the 'Implementation of NEP in Universities and Colleges'. Prof. K. Ratnabali, Dean, Academic Affairs, University of Delhi was the Special Guest on the occasion and she shared her views on 'Taking Education Ahead – NEP and V2 Scheme'. Dr. Dipok Bora, Principal, Government Model College, Deithor, Assam, the collaborating college with Vivekananda College under the V2 Scheme, shared his views about the importance of the scheme and its benefits.

An initiative of V2S and NEP, Vivekananda College was to inaugurate the 'Lok Virasat Project "Mati Ki Kushboo"' on this occasion. This project was conceptualised and implemented to collect folk songs and make an online repository of our culture. The first step was to collect songs from Assam related to the agricultural cycle of the state.

In the Technical Session (Languages and Indian Culture), invited guests presented their views on various topics related to the theme of the seminar. The topics were: 'Promotion of Rajbhasha in Administration of India' by Prof. Kumud Sharma, Offg. Director, Directorate of Hindi Medium Implementation, 'Role of Technology in Promoting Indian Languages' by Prof. R.R. Singh, Programme Head (e-Governance and Training), ICFOSS, and 'Bridging the Language Gap' by Dr. Arup Kumar Nath, Tezpur University. Lastly, there was a Panel Discussion by the advisors of Vidya Vistar Scheme. The panellists were Prof. Jyoti Prasad Saikia, Vice-Chancellor, Birangona Sati Sadhini State University, Assam, Dr. Kumud Khanna, Director (Retd.), Institute of Home Economics, University of Delhi, Dr. Vimal Rarh, Joint Director, GAD-TLC, Center of MHRD, SGTB Khalsa College, University of Delhi, and Dr. Saguna Dewan, Senior Principal Scientist, Innovation Protection Unit (IPU), Council of Scientific & Industrial Research. They all shared their views and threw light on the need of Indian languages in education and suggested various innovative ideas in research in their presentations.

The seminar ended with the Vote of Thanks.

There was a total of 197 registrations (<https://forms.gle/pzJXT8WAWU4k5VZH7>) of participants. More than 350 members connected to the seminar, including guests, speakers, registered participants and students. We received a total of 43 feedback (<https://forms.gle/RegwbaxtN3XxyUgn8>) and e-certificates of participation were mailed

Title of Event: Who Run the World 2.0 (Under DU Centenary Celebrations)

Date: 14 October 2022

Teacher Co-ordinator: Dr. Sandhya Sharma

The Women Development Cell of Vivekananda College, University of Delhi, organized an inter-college competition, 'Who Run the World 2.0' on 14 October 2022.

The competition was conducted from 11:00 a.m. onwards at Sharda Hall, Vivekananda College. The theme for this competition was to celebrate inspiring women of the Indian society. The event unfolded the creative and confident side of the participants as they dressed up and enacted the diverse personalities of women like Jeejabai, Rani Laxmi Bai, Draupadi, Medusa, and many more. The sufferings, strengths, valour, intellect, achievements, sentiments, etc., of the chosen real and fictional women were addressed by the performers through extraordinary concepts. The participants were given three minutes each to present themselves on the stage, and the top three winners received cash prizes of Rs. 2000/-, Rs. 1500/-, and Rs. 1000/-, respectively. The competition was anchored by Shaily Khare and Deepti Pandey, students of Vivekananda College and organised by the WDC - Convenor, Women's Development Cell, Dr. Sandhya Sharma, and members – Dr. Anchala Paliwal, Dr. Chaandreyi Mukherjee and Dr. Shikha Garg. Dr. Rachna Bimal, Professor, Department of Hindi, Satyawati College, University of Delhi and Ms. Priya Sharma, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Vivekananda College, University of Delhi, were the judges for the competition. Students and teachers of Vivekananda College attended the event enthusiastically. As the scores were collated, Dr. Rachna Bimal addressed the audience with her insights on the theme and remarks for the performers. The competition was an enthralling experience for the performers as well as the audience. The following participants were announced as the top three winners:

First Prize: Neha Rani, Vivekananda College, University of Delhi

Second Prize: Tushar Sharma, Ram Lal Anand College, University of Delhi

Third Prize: Parampara Sharma, Vivekananda College, University of Delhi

The event ended with congratulatory remarks from the judge, Ms. Priya Sharma and a vote of thanks by Dr. Mukherjee.

From pioneers in the fight for women's education and rights, to the first female doctors of India, our country has witnessed extraordinary women thinkers and activists. In recent times, female athletes have shattered patriarchy and created history. In the field of literature, female writers have been nominated for prestigious awards and have also been awarded the Booker and International Booker Prize. Women, not only in India, but all over the world have fought and are still fighting for fundamental rights, demanding equality across all arenas. This competition seeks to recognize and celebrate the undying strength and resilience of Womanhood. For this Inter-College/University competition, students are requested to dress up as the women they admire and emulate their philosophies/opinions. They are free to choose from any genre, socio-political realm, region, nation, media and even characters from books. So let us all gear up for an exciting interactive session!

Date: 24th and 25th April 2023

Objective: To strengthen efforts to prevent suicides & promote wellbeing in college campuses.

Youth 20 (Y20) is an official consultation forum for youth from all G20 member countries to be able to dialogue with each other. Y20 aims to encourage youth as future leaders to raise awareness about global issues, share ideas, engage in dialogue and reach consensus. NIMHANS is conducting Y20 consultations on the theme 'Health, Wellbeing and Sports' as part of the G20 Presidency of India. A group discussion and Actionable Ideas as a Youth were discussed on 'Preventing Suicides and Promoting mental wellbeing in college campuses' and 'Creating/strengthening youth friendly health services'. In the discussion, the participants brainstormed various strategies, suggestions and recommendations for health systems, healthcare providers and the government on the theme of making health services youth-friendly & more easily accessible and also concluded how can the college authorities can contribute to spread awareness about suicides and help in preventing them.

- Workshops with a discussion about mental health by people with lived experiences.
- Introducing concepts of emotional intelligence from primary school.
- Making websites/apps/ portray free counseling for college campuses.
- HODs can assign teachers to the batch for daily mood check-in.
- Mentorship sessions are to be taken seriously.
- Subjects like emotional intelligence, the art of being happy should be made compulsory and should be taught by professionals instead of normal school/college teachers.
- Raising awareness about teen pregnancy, child raising sessions for parents
- More strict rules on ragging/ bullying
- Making mental health facilities grading system in campuses mandatory by NAAC
- Maintaining a sound counselor-client ratio in educational institutions and organizations.
- 'Psych camps' should be set up in urban and rural areas- just like medical camps, which provide free medical evaluations and help; professionals from the field can donate some time for pro-bono work in these camps.

- Promoting psychological first aid courses amongst the youth and further making them part of the educational curriculum.
- Creating localized helplines (numbers and centers) for suicide prevention and mental health care, to increase accessibility and availability; were shared.

Event 11:

Workshop on 'Youth Suicide Prevention' in collaboration with Outlive.

Date: 10th May, 2023

Objective: Building awareness about Suicide Prevention

Outlive is a joint initiative by Sangath, the Centre for Mental Health Law & Policy, and Quicksand Design Studio. Outlive aims to reduce suicide among young people aged 18-24 years, address broader conversations around mental health stigma and encourage help seeking. Activities are implemented with young people in New Delhi, Pune and Mumbai. The goal of the workshop was to build students' literacy and awareness of suicide prevention strategies. The workshop focused on initiating conversations on mental health, distress and suicide prevention. Over the two hours, the facilitator discussed myths about mental health and suicide, risk factors and warning signs, how students can cope with distress, and avenues to seek support during crisis and severe distress

In the students' own words:

"I learned the factors that affect mental health and the language that we could use while talking about suicide."

"I got great insight on how to initiate a conversation in an empathetic manner, when signs of suicide are observed. Also got to know about the various factors that may be responsible other than mental health issues. Would definitely apply the knowledge by to help people around and provide support to people."

Acknowledgements:

We would like to acknowledge the encouragement and support provided by all the members of the Carovasa society from the Department of Psychology. Their support was crucial for the programme to be conducted at Vivekananda College. We would also like to thank all the students from the four tier Mental Health team for their time and participation.

If you would like any further detail on any aspect of this report or the programme, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Thank you.

Event: Questionnaire related cleanliness campaign

Date: 6 October 2022-11 October 2022

Response: 552

Venue: Online mode

Duration: 5 days

Nss unit of Vivekananda college university of Delhi organised an online questionnaire for people where volunteer did survey through that questionnaire.

We received an amazing response some around 552 data under 6 October to 11 October, we have collected in regards to the cleanliness availability in their surroundings. Many questions were asked in regards to the cleanliness in their surrounding like availability of dustbin at street, use of plastics in local area even after its ban and hazardous effect.

In questionnaire there were questions were put like reduction of pollution, how to ensure Individual responsibility towards environment? And door to door service for garbage collection or stake of garbage on street is there?

Through questionnaire we also spread the awareness like how unhygienic area can lead to severe diseases through questions like which of the following diseases are spread by not maintaining cleanliness and hygiene.

a) Dengue b) Hepatitis c) Both

Even this questionnaire was something which help individuals to understand their fault and responsibilities in making surrounding clean like we found 333 people who became shy when it comes to picking Garbage from road usually.

National Vigilance Day - Step Ahead As Anti Corruption

Vigilance meaning state of being watch and alert. A person in a position of authority who engages in dishonest or unethical behaviour, either to further their own or another person's interests, is said to be corrupt. It is a universal phenomenon that touches all social classes in some capacity. Economic development, democracy, the environment, public health, and many other things are all threatened by corruption. Therefore, it is crucial that the people be educated about and inspired by initiatives to root out corruption. Today we commemorate National Vigilance Week to stop corruption.

A democracy is a form of government "by the people, for the people," which gets legitimacy through openness and a system of checks and balances. Democracies are characterised by vigilance and awareness. But in reality, Corruption is a common problem in democracies.

Theme for National Vigilance week

Every year, the week of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's birthday (October 31) is designated as Vigilance Awareness Week. According to a decision made by the Commission, Vigilance Awareness Week in 2022 will be marked from October 31 through November 6. According to the Central Vigilance Commission's instructions, CIL headquarters will observe Vigilance Awareness Week-2022 from October 31 to November 6, 2022. This year's Vigilance Awareness Week will focus on "Corruption free India for a developed Nation," which is the topic for the week. The first national vigilance commissioner was Nittoor Sreenivasa Rau.

Vigilance Awareness Week from October 26th to November 1st, 2021, with a lot of enthusiasm and involvement. A number of events were planned to promote awareness in regards to corruption.

'Independent India at 75: Self Reliance with Integrity' was the theme.

2020 year's Vigilance Awareness Week, had the theme "Satark Bharat, Samridhdh Bharat (Vigilant India, Prosperous India)," taken placed from October 27 to November 2, 2020. Human greed, or an excessive urge to succeed and it was linked to corruption in daily life.

Background

On October 31, 2000, the Central Vigilance Commission established the custom of honouring the week beginning with Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's birthday as Vigilance Awareness Week. The goal of Vigilance Awareness Week is to raise public awareness of the negative impacts of corruption.

When the then-Chief Vigilance Commissioner wrote a piece in 2000, the concept of "Vigilance Awareness Week" was first proposed. According to a report on CNBC TV18, the letter stated that corruption was "anti-national," "anti-economic progress," and "anti-poor."

CVC - Central Vigilance Commission

The CVC is designed to be the top vigilance institution, independent of all executive powers. It is responsible for overseeing all vigilance activity conducted on behalf of the Central Government and providing guidance to various authorities within Central Government organisations on how to plan, carry out, evaluate, and reform their vigilant work

The Central Vigilance Commission has been transformed into a multi-member Commission having "statutory status" as of August 25th, 1998, following the President's promulgation of an Ordinance.

How to celebrate?

- Create human chains wherever possible in the affected cities, towns, and villages. Organize visible events like street plays, public gatherings, and marathons, triathlons, and other such activities.
- By Display of signs, banners, and posters, as well as handout distribution, at visible locations, including those in offices, field units, and public areas eg. branches of Banks, Petrol Pumps, Railway Stations, Airports etc.
- Establish camps for citizens and customers to file complaints with businesses that offer customer-focused products or services. Similar to that, wherever necessary, vendor meetings may be scheduled.
- For the purpose of raising awareness, social media sites, bulk SMS/E-mail, WhatsApp, electronic and print media, etc., may be used extensively.
- creating a consciousness among high school and college students about the negative repercussions of corruption. All organisations are encouraged to support the creation of "Integrity Clubs" in schools and colleges because young people are the nation's future assets and it is crucial to instil moral principles in them.
- Develop a Gram Sabha awareness campaign for spreading knowledge about corruption's negative impacts among citizens in Gram Panchayats (in rural and semi-urban areas).

Purpose

The Commission thinks that corruption is a significant barrier to the country's advancement. To maintain integrity in all facets of our national life, all societal segments must remain watchful. As part of this year's Vigilance Awareness Week, the Commission wants all organisations to concentrate on internal (housekeeping) tasks that will be undertaken in a campaign style. This entails streamlining internal procedures, assigning tasks in a timely manner, and making systemic improvements while leveraging technology. The Commission emphasises the importance of ensuring transparency in all processes, including payments to contractors, home allocations, asset updates and digitization, including property records, condemnation of old furnishings, and removing outdated records while adhering to established procedures and regulations.

The identification and implementation of systemic changes inside organisations has been advised. They could then post them in the public domain on the website of their organisation. To ensure more distribution of the systemic reforms and good governance initiatives, this might be sent to the CVC.

The foundation training course for probationary bank officers and several other cadres, such as scientists, includes a section on preventive vigilance. A module on preventive vigilance is also included in the Mid-Career Training Program for middle level officers of the organised Group A services under several Ministries of the Government of India. Visits to Excellence Institutes, village visits, and other activities have been added to modulate the conduct of public servants with regard to honesty and openness, as well as to affect attitude change.

Unity and integrity day

Sardar Patel, who played a significant part in India's political unity, was born on this day, and it is honoured as his birth day. The National Unity Day "will provide an opportunity to reaffirm the inherent strength and resilience of our nation to endure the real and potential challenges to the unity, integrity, and security of our country," according to the official statement from the Home Ministry of India.

For his ability to lead the nation through the war for independence and beyond, most notably during the federation of the princely states and the India-Pakistan War of 1947, Vallabhbhai Patel was given the title "Sardar" (chief).

Significant

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, a seasoned freedom warrior and the nation's first home minister, is remembered in India on October 31 as National Unity Day for his significant role in persuading many princely states to join the Union of India after Independence. The day is observed as a tribute to the "national unity," for which the nation is eternally thankful to Patel for his significant efforts that led to India's unification. In 2014, the government stated that October 31 would be observed as National Unity Day or Rashtriya Ekta Diwas in honour of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel.

Background

Sardar Patel commemorated on October 31 in India. The Indian government first made it available in 2014. India observes National Unity Day on October 31. The Indian government first made it available in 2014. The holiday is observed to commemorate the birthday of Sardar Vallabhai Patel, who was crucial to India's political unification.

The Home Ministry of India said in its official statement for National Unity Day that the occasion "will provide a chance to re-affirm the inherent strength and resilience of our nation to endure the real and potential challenges to the unity, integrity, and security of our country.

On this day, a commitment is read aloud in government buildings: I solemnly pledge that I dedicate myself to upholding the nation's unity, integrity, and security, and I also make a strong effort to propagate this message among my fellow citizens. I make this commitment in the spirit of my nation's unification, which was made possible by the vision. and Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel's deeds. I also firmly swear to do my part to support my nation's internal security.

On the banks of the Narmada river in Vadodara, Gujarat, stands tall The Statue of Togetherness in honour of him as a massive representation of India's unity. In 2018, the statue was unveiled. The 146th anniversary of Vallabhbhai Patel's birth will be commemorated this year.

Theme

Rashtriya Ekta Diwas was established in 2014 in honour of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, who served as India's first deputy prime minister after independence.

Patel was a key figure in the independence movement in India and the unification of the country's 560 princely republics.

As the centrepiece of National Bullying Prevention Month, PACER's National Bullying Prevention Center established Unity Day. called for taken was to "Make it end and colour orange. Join Forces Against Bullying" Participants were urged to don orange to support the fight against bullying.

Celebration

Additionally, in honour of the Iron Man of India, the Indian government erected a sizable statue of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel close to the Narmada River in Gujarat.

"The day will provide an opportunity to re-affirm the inherent strength and resilience of our nation to endure the actual and potential challenges to the unity, integrity, and security of our country," the Home Ministry of India stated in an official statement on National Unity Day.

In 2014, the Indian government declared the day in honour of his birthday to be National Unity Day. relating to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Narendra Modi, the Prime Minister of India, unveiled a massive Statue of Unity in Gujarat, close to the renowned Narmada River, for his country's 143rd birthday.

Relevance

Role of sardar patel in unification of India is indeed a remarkable history. He was the one behind the success integrity among the nation's. Sardar patel tried ammu policy to merged those states in India whose Nawab or ruler in favour of their own independent rule.

Hyderabad nizam , kashmir hari singh , manipur are some of the states who were in favour of having independent rule but with the Patel contribution we can see unified ties of states of India.

On the same hand 1962 Indo china war speculation were given by sardar patel already to nehru but sadly that time nehru wanted India chini bhai bhai slogan to be on Focus which later resulted into heavy cost which India have paid as Food scarcity and war consequences.

Christmas shines as the festival of joy and happiness for Christians around the world. On the eve of Christmas our NSS unit went for a visit to old age home. It was indeed it was indeed a great experience. We got to know much more about the society. There was a conversation between one of the volunteer and uncle from old age home which will definitely be the last lesson we've learnt "MAANA MUSHKIL HOJAATA HAI LEKIN MAT CHHODHNA APNE MAA BAAP KO MUSHKIL HMARE LIYE BHI THA PR KABHI HMNE BHI TOU MAHI CHHODHA"

When she said "ACCHA UNCLE CHALTI HU"

Uncle replied "DEKHA TUMNE BHI KAHA CHALTI HU OR PHIR KABHI NAHI AATE LOG AISA MAT BOLO. BOLO MILTI HU." This visit made us very emotional.

Name of the Event: Nukkad Natak on Acid Attack

Date: 15 February 2023

Venue: Vivekananda School, Vivek Vihar

Duration: 4 hours

Nukkad Natak, or street play, is a powerful medium for raising awareness and advocating social change. This report highlights a compelling nukkad natak performance on the sensitive issue of acid attacks, shedding light on the heinous crime and its impact on victims and society. The play aimed to spread awareness, evoke empathy, and inspire action against this grave injustice.

Themes and Messages:

This nukkad natak aimed to convey several crucial messages:

1. Raise Awareness: The performance shed light on the menace of acid attacks, making the audience more aware of the issue and its consequences.
2. Empathy for Victims: The play encouraged the audience to empathize with acid attack survivors and understand their struggles.
3. Women Empowerment: Women's determination to rise above her tragedy showcased the strength and resilience of women even in the face of adversity.
4. Responsibility of Society: The play highlighted the collective responsibility of society to prevent such crimes and support survivors in their journey towards healing and justice.

Conclusion:

The nukkad natak on acid attacks left a profound impact on the audience, evoking strong emotions and initiating discussions about the issue. By combining storytelling with real-life experiences, the play effectively advocated for change, encouraging society to address the root causes of such heinous acts and work towards building a safer and more inclusive environment for all. The power of street theatre in creating social awareness was exemplified through this impactful performance, inspiring the audience to take a stand against acid attacks and support survivors in reclaiming their lives.

We the NSS Unit of Vivekananda College successfully organized a Film Screening “ODHANI” on women empowerment. Under this event we had more activities like Group Discussion, Speech, PPT, and Quiz. We successfully completed the event with the enthusiastic participation of NSS Volunteers.

Motive: Women empowerment encourages girls in the field of education, sports, etc. It creates awareness of their capabilities. Earlier, people used to think that some tasks are difficult for women. Women empowerment activities help them to do such tasks. Education for women and girls can fix this problem. First, it equips them with more skills and knowledge, thus qualifying them for better jobs. Second, it decreases societal gender stereotypes, which promotes the acceptance of women in higher-earning and decision-making positions. If all women and girls receive a quality education, their employment opportunities will be greatly improved.

- Number of NSS Volunteers attended the event: 35

- ORGANISERS OF THE EVENT: Anshika Gupta and Ritika Tawar (Political science honours 2nd year)

This is a report of organising anti-tobacco event with nss volunteers of Vivekananda College Delhi University.

Organizing the anti-Tobacco Day Nukkad Natak was a memorable experience for me. I was part of a social group determined to spread awareness about the harmful effects of tobacco and help people quit this addiction. We decided to stage a street play, or Nukkad Natak, as it is a powerful medium to connect with people and convey important messages. Firstly, we gathered a team of enthusiastic individuals who were passionate about making a difference. We then scouted for a suitable location, and with proper permissions. organizing the anti-Tobacco Day Nukkad Natak was a great success. We believed that we had managed to reach out to a significant number of people, educating them about the dangers of tobacco and motivating them to make positive changes in their lives. It was a fulfilling experience to witness the impact of our efforts in raising awareness and potentially saving lives.
