An occasion to celebrate victory over defeat, light over darkness, awareness over ignorance, an occasion to celebrate life; On the occasion of Diwali NSS Unit Vivekananda College, University of Delhi organized a 3-day awareness campaign with various activities for the volunteers of the unit. The 3-day awareness campaign has different activities with the variety of themes and Sub-themes. Awareness regarding the campaign was generated through posters made by volunteers and later posted on the social media handles. The first theme of the campaign was " Be Vocal for Local & quot; as our honorable Prime minister Mr. NarendraModi focuses more upon " Vocal for local & quot; to not just use domestically made products but also to promote them. Following the main theme, there were Sub-themes as well, which includes ‘Usage of only Indian Diyas’ and to use only indigenous products and handmade products for decoration (like Best out of Waste). Theme 2 was "Be Wise This Diwali by Saying No to Crackers & quot; as all of us are very well aware about the amount of pollution and harmful gases released by these crackers and that pollute our environment and harm the air quality which later on takes upon the health of individuals. So, keeping in mind all these factors, we wanted to promote a Green Diwali and a Safe Diwali for everyone. Theme 3 was to make everyone’s diwali more happier - Bring a Smile: Donate. The campaign was held from 12th Nov-14th Nov. Volunteers of NSS participated in full-fledged enthusiasm and celebrated a happy safe Diwali. 12 volunteers participated in this awareness programme.

7. WRAP THE SCRAP COMPETITION on Reduce, Reuse, Recycle from 20-24 December, 2020

Report with photographs proofs, date and caption is provided (No geo-tagged photographs are available for the online event)

December 14 is being celebrated as the National Energy Conservation Day throughout the country every year since 1991. This is a day dedicated to an issue whose discussion and importance is ubiquitous throughout the world. So, the NSS unit of Vivekananda College conducted a best out of waste competition called 'Wrap the Scrap' which was based on the principal of the 3 Rs, that is, 'Reduce, Reuse, Recycle'. The purpose of the competition was to give the youth a push towards the path of sustainable development. This was achieved by instilling in them the ideas about how to use what they thought was waste and hence, reuse and recycle the things while reducing the waste. The competition was conducted from 20th to 24th December, under a 10 days long campaign for energy conservation. Top 3 participants were awarded with an appreciation post and a shout-out on the official NSS Instagram handle of the college, along with a winner certificate. 3rd and 4th runner ups received an E-certificate and a shout-out on aforementioned Instagram handle while 5th and 6th runner ups only got the shout-outs. Participation certificates were awarded to all the participants via mail. An enthusiastic participation

Conserve Water, Conserve Life! Don't let life slip down the drain.

The NSS unit of Vivekananda College, University of Delhi organized NIRAM (a series of events on the occasion of National Water Day) started from 21st March 2021

Water is the building block of life. A day dedicated to drawing attention to the water related issues that humans face in almost every country. A survey is a list of questions aimed at extracting specific data from a particular group of people. A survey on No Water, No Life was conducted in which questions regarding usage of water, conserving the water were asked from different individuals through questionnaire method. The survey helps in realizing the people how they are using and conserve the natural source and what all they can keep in mind and follow further.

A case study competition was also organized "CAUSA". Students presented different case studies on the value of water and conservation and further questions were asked which made them introspect deeply about their studies. 10 students participated in it.

No Life can exist without water! There was an activity "ANIMAIS" in which students showed the humane gesture of giving water to thirsty animals. The students realised that it could be a small token of help from our side to nature by providing water to animals. We all can follow this and it's a good deed and also we will be helping our environment. Humanity also insists us to do this. 12 volunteers participated in it.

Tree plantation drive was also conducted on PLANTACAO. The students planted a sapling near their home and watered it properly under proper care. Trees greatly contribute to their environment by providing oxygen, supporting wildlife, improving air quality, conserving water, preserving soil, and climate amelioration. 20 students participated in it.

A group discussion was also on 4th April 2021. The theme of the discussion was valuing water. In the discussion students put forward their point of views regarding conservation of water. And right now how important it is to conserve. Through the enlightening discussion students realised the value of saving and conserving water. 85 participants were in the event.

I feed cows almost every day with roti or any eatables. These are stray dogs but they live inside our building and all the people in the building feed them daily. It feels very good while feeding them. I must say we all should be kind towards these stray animals.
-Aditi Pandey

When I look at my goats they look very thirsty. So I offered them some water and after drinking water they looked very relaxed. That time I realized that as we need water for survival the animals also needed it for their survival and after I regular provide water to my goats.

There is an open ground in front of house which is full of trees. And in summers it become the shelter for many bird. I keep some water at my terrace for those birds so that in the blazing hot summer they can also feel relaxed. I also put a utensil of water near the door of my house for dogs, cats and any other animal who need water.
