

Devbhoomi Society

"Uttarakhand and Himachal Pradesh, where the heavens meet the earth, are blessed with breathtaking landscapes and a divine serenity that captivates the soul." -

Rabindranath Tagore

“

The profound words of Rabindranath Tagore aptly capture the essence of mist-laden valleys, snow-capped peaks, and glistening rivers of Uttarakhand and Himachal Pradesh.

”

However, its rich culture and heritage is on the verge of extinction due to several reasons, majorly migration. The cultural society of VNC, Devbhoomi believes in connecting today's generation with their culture. So that they can explore and understand how rich their culture is. Through this society you can explore Devbhoomi culture, tradition, and festivals more closely.

Aim

Nestled in the scenic hills of Uttarakhand, this society stands as a beacon of cultural pride and strives to ensure the continuity of the Pahadi traditions, customs, and values and our unwavering commitment to cultural preservation.

Activities

Devbhoomi Society stands as a symbol of cultural preservation, with a mission to protect and promote the rich heritage of Uttarakhand and Himachal Pradesh.

Nestled amidst the picturesque landscapes of these two regions, the Devbhoomi Society recognizes the urgent need to safeguard the cultural traditions that are at risk of extinction due to migration. However, the Devbhoomi Society of VNC goes beyond mere cultural preservation and its awareness among students, locals, and visitors about the unique practices, art forms, and festivals of the region. Traditional dance and music workshops, storytelling sessions, and cultural exhibitions are organized to promote a deeper understanding and appreciation of the Pahadi culture. By engaging the youth in these activities, society ensures the transmission of cultural knowledge to future generations.

Conclusion

Our commitment to protecting and promoting the heritage is unwavering.

Devbhoomi Society of VNC stands as a beacon of hope and a guardian of the Pahadi culture. Through various initiatives, society not only raises awareness but also actively engages in cultural preservation, community empowerment, and environmental conservation. By upholding the legacy of the Pahadi culture, the Devbhoomi Society ensures that the unique identity and heritage of the Pahadi people continue to thrive, inspiring generations to come who would forever be captivated by the timeless allure and heritage of Uttarakhand.