Sub:- Permission for Community Project on 08/04/2017 at 12.00. outside college gate
no. 3.

Madam
The Commerce Dept. has already completed 6 modules/workshops of Holistic Development Program organised by Sai Centre Lodhi Road and has to do one community project of food distribution through our students who are enrolled in the course on 08/04/2017. So you may kindly allow us to have 2 tables, water dispenser at the gate of the college. I shall be highly obliged to you.

Thanking you

The sessions chair closed the session by giving a few comments by highlighting the relevance of traditional foods in government programmes and about the adulteration and sources of contamination in traditional foods.

Dr. Kanungo was invited to present the memento as a token of gratitude and appreciation to felicitate the speakers. Professor Panda was invited to present the memento as a token of gratitude and appreciation to felicitate the sessions chair.

Technical Session 2: Theme-Traditional Food Industry: Challenges and Concerns (2:30-3:00 p.m.)

Dr. Shashi Prabha Gupta (Former Technical Advisor, Food and Nutrition Board, Ministry of Women and Child Development, Government of India) was invited on the stage to chair the second session. Miss Pooja Bhardawaj (Vice-President, FT Society, Vivekananda College, University of Delhi) was invited to felicitate the sessions chair with a bouquet of flowers.

There were five speakers in the second session: Dr. Anita Malhotra, Dr. Pulkit Mathur, Dr. Upasna Seth, Shri Ashok Kanchan ji and Dr. Vandana Goyal.

1) The first speaker of the session was Dr. Anita Malhotra (Secretary, Association of Food Scientists and Technologists India-Delhi chapter and an Associate Professor, Lakshmbai College, University of Delhi). She spoke on the topic, "Tracing the food-safety issues from the industry to the consumer". She shared her insightful knowledge on the food safety issues of concern like physical, chemical and microbial contamination of foods existing in the food industry and the importance of these issues to the consumer. She raised issues about lack of awareness among consumers about the issues of food safety issues.

The sessions chair invited a question from the audience. One question by a distinguished guest from the audience asked about the food safety issues that concern the traditional foods to which Dr. Malhotra replied by citing examples of contamination and measures of prevention.

2) The second speaker of the session was Dr. Pulkit Mathur (Assistant Professor, Department of Food and Nutrition, Lady Irwin College, University of Delhi). She spoke on the topic, "Capacity building in the micro and small enterprises". Dr. Mathur shared her priceless knowledge about the same by highlighting various standards by FSSAI to ensure safety of foods, HACCP certification and the contamination in terms of intentional, non-permissible and excessive addition of chemical hazards like food additives, pesticide residues, veterinary residues, heavy metals etc.

The sessions chair invited a question from the audience. One question by a distinguished guest from the audience asked about the awareness creation and educational empowerment among small scale enterprises in traditional foods to which Dr. Mathur replied by cited examples of her studies conducted by her institution for the same.

3) The third speaker of the session was Dr. Upasna Seth (Associate Professor, Aditi Mahavidyalaya, University of Delhi). She will speak on the topic, "Packaging and Labelling of Traditional Foods". She highlighted the importance of labeling like the scope of health and nutritional claims which needs to be there on food packages especially the traditional food items and the packaged products prepared with them.

The sessions chair invited a question from the audience. One question by a distinguished guest from the audience asked about the existing nutritional and health claims and regulations on foods to which Dr. Seth replied by stating the lack of claims in packaged food products containing traditional food items.

Due to paucity of time the other two remaining speakers were requested to present in the post-lunch session. Dr. Shashi Prabha Gupta was invited to present the memento as a token of gratitude and appreciation to felicitate the speakers. Professor Panda was invited to present the memento as a token of gratitude and appreciation to felicitate the sessions chair.

This was followed by a lunch break (2:30-3:00 p.m.).

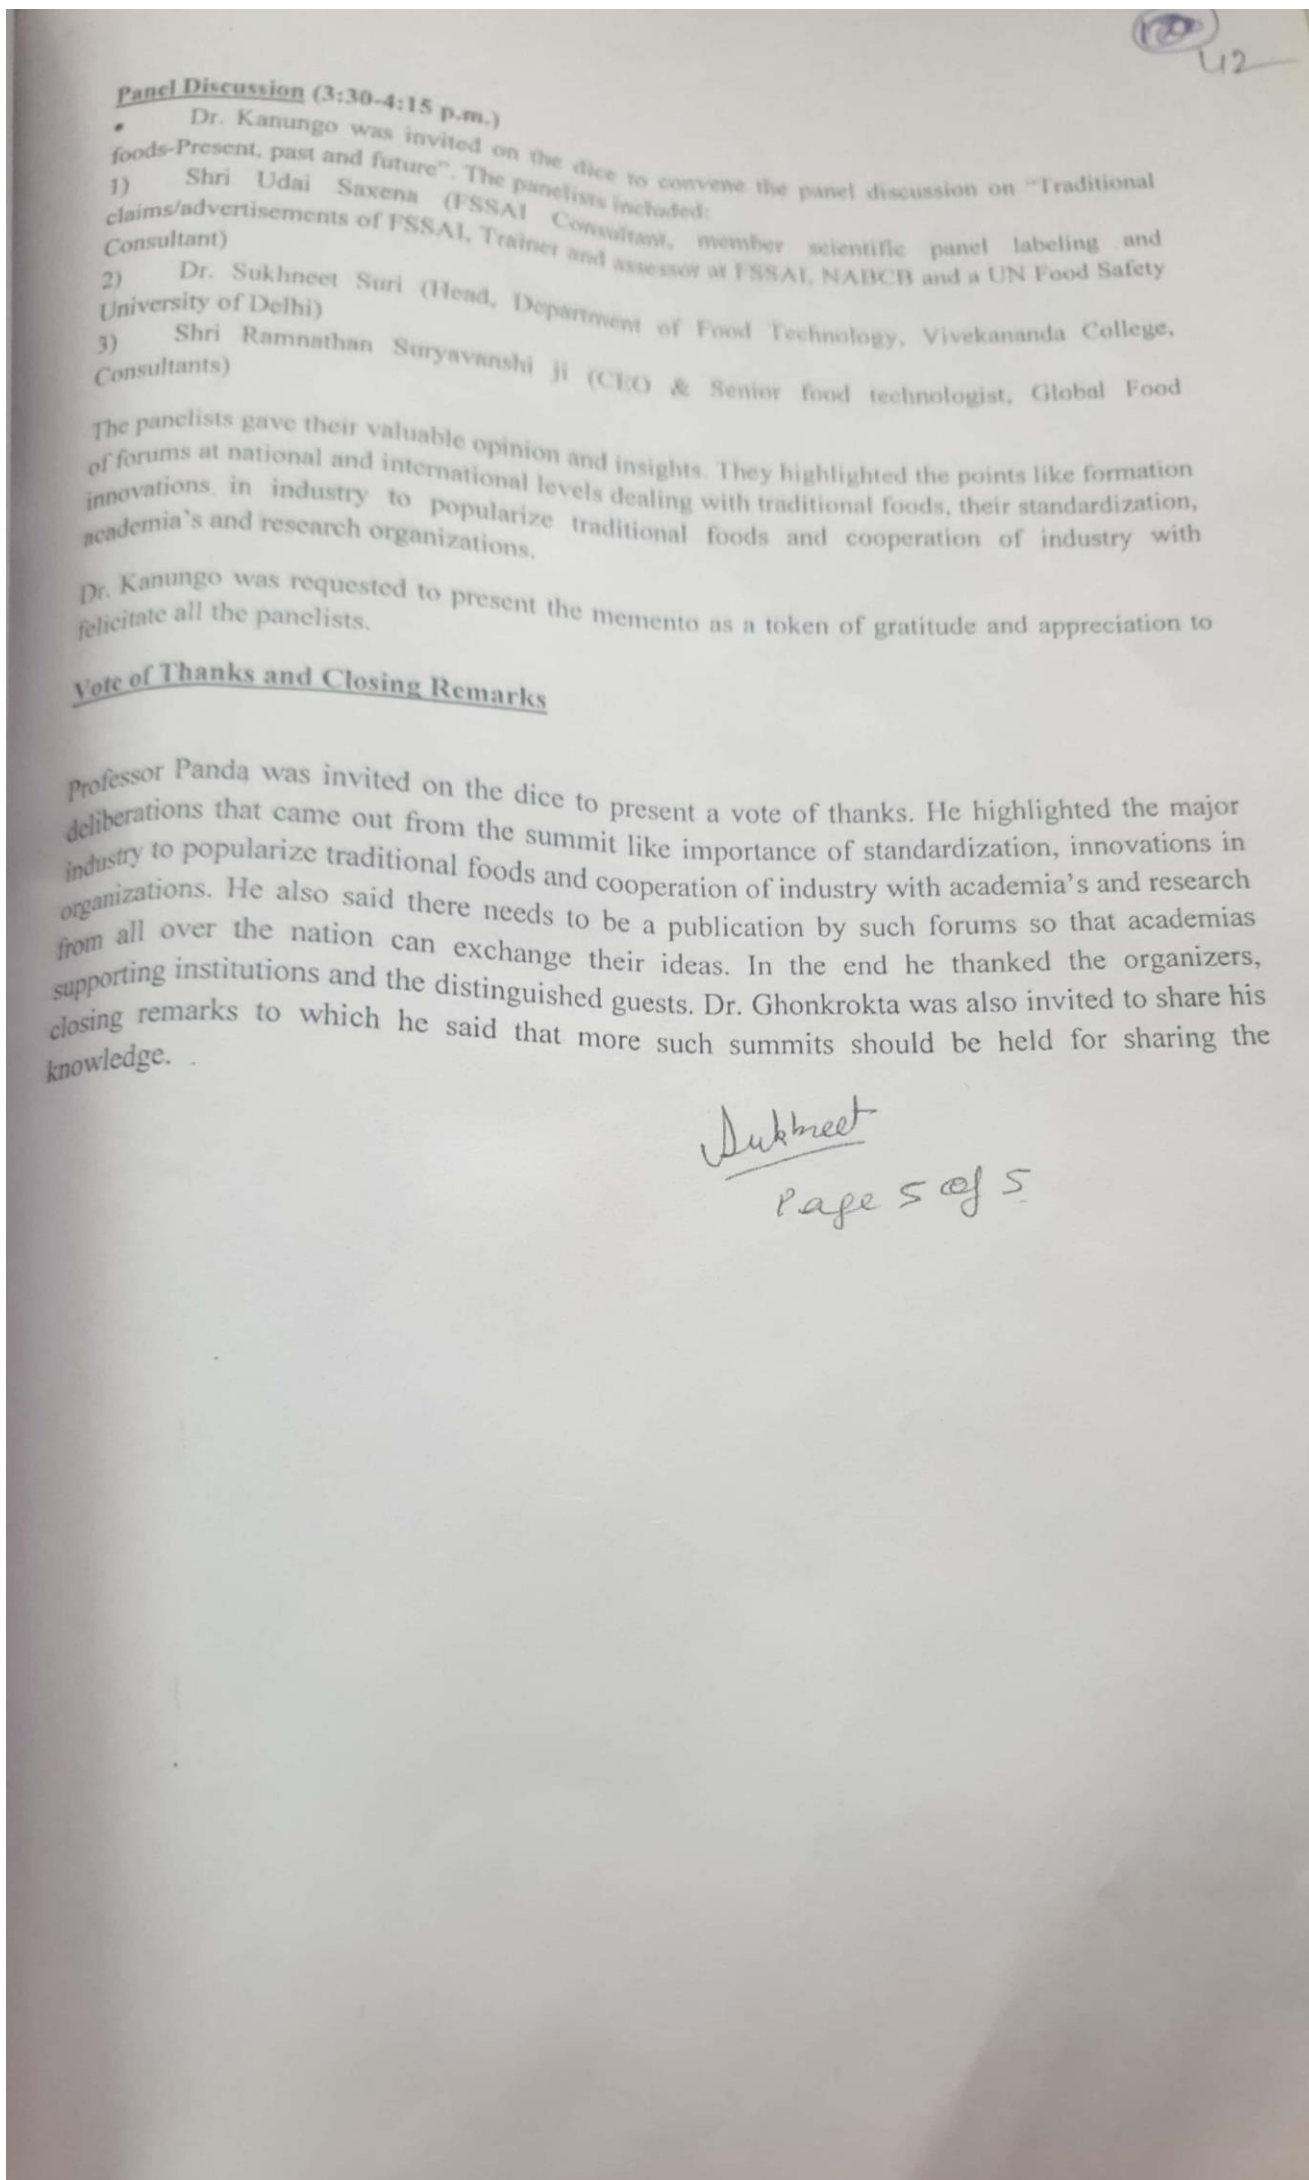

After lunch the second technical session was continued and the remaining two speakers were invited to share their findings.

4) The fourth speaker of the session was Shri Ashok Kanchan ji (Chief Advisor, Food, Nutrition and Health, Consumer VOICE). He spoke on the topic "Importance of food testing for consumers". He highlighted that his organization assists and supports testing of foods for additives, pesticides residues, microorganisms and mycotoxins and adjudge whether it is within the stipulated norms and regulations set up by our countries regulations and creates among the consumers regarding food safety.

5) The fifth speaker of the session was Dr. Vandana Goyal (HOD of an Institute in Mohali funded by Dr. C.V Ramans University). She spoke on the topic "Importance, challenges, trade and barriers to traditional foods". She highlighted the nutritional problems and the benefits of foods in dealing with the issue.
